

Megan Meier

Megan litigates commercial disputes and represents defamation plaintiffs fighting reputational attacks by the media.

Megan is a seasoned attorney with nine years of experience in every aspect of the litigation process, from pre-suit client advising and briefing to discovery, trial, and appeal. She began her legal career at Kirkland & Ellis, where she worked extensively with the founding partners of Clare Locke LLP.

Megan has worked on numerous defamation matters, securing corrections and retractions of damaging falsehoods about Fortune 500 companies and high-profile individuals. She has also represented companies and boards of directors faced with shareholder litigation, including Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority v. Volgenau, et al., in which the Delaware Supreme Court affirmed the grant of summary judgment to SRA International, Inc. following a $1.8 billion merger with Providence Equity Partners. In addition, Megan has years of experience litigating commercial property insurance coverage disputes on behalf of Nationwide Insurance Company and its affiliates. She has also advised nonprofit organizations regarding incorporation, tax-exempt status, and corporate governance.

Megan was named a Washington DC “Rising Star” by Super Lawyers magazine in both 2016 and 2017.

megan@clarelocke.com
Direct Dial: (202) 628-7403

ADMISSIONS

Commonwealth of Virginia
State of Illinois
District of Columbia

EDUCATION

University of Michigan Law School,
J.D., 2008
University of Michigan, B.A., With
Distinction, 2003

PUBLICATIONS AND PRESENTATIONS

- Presenter, Kirkland Institute of Trial Advocacy Summer Program
Direct Examinations and Cross Examinations
- “The Carried Interest Controversy: The U.S. and U.K. Reform Movements of 2007,” Tax Notes International vol. 50, no. 3 (April 21, 2008)